“ I remember when Greg moved on our block, he was so cute with his blonde hair. White city was a fun place to live. In high school Greg got in a bad car accident and I went to see him many times in the hospital. Just a few weeks ago I ran across a picture of him dancing at our class reunion, so glad I will always have that photo to look at.. I want to say he is my Greg. My mom can watch over him now. My heart goes out to the family.

“ To Greg's Family, I am deeply sorry for this loss. When Greg and his family moved into White City, he and I became good friends along with many others. We were on the same little league team and played on the Azzerelli Colts together. We use to ride our bikes to practice or walk over the trestle. I still remember and tell stories about us hopping bumpers in the snow, sneaking his mom Sandy's car for joy rides, sitting on Ciaccio's corner late at night telling stories. When we hit junior high, Jeff Farman moved into the neighborhood and we 3 were inseparable having fun and getting into trouble. We always had each others back. Everyone was jealous Greg could run like a deer and seemed to never get tired. Greg would take us to Dick and Ruth's house for weekends in L"Erable, my favorite was when we got to meet either Billy Williams or Fergie Jenkins there. We all thought Greg was from a famous family. After high school when Kankakee was in a down turn we all decided to go into the military. Even during this time we stayed in touch as much as possible. Once we moved back to Kankakee in the 90's we caught up with each other like no time had passed. I can still hear his hoarse laugh. Greg always remembered to call my mother and I on our birthdays. I bet he still would know the dates today. Over the years we lost touch again after I moved out of town. I did speak to Greg about 4 years ago and we laughed like old time. He could always make me laugh. I could go on for hours but it wouldn't be the same. Now that I know I cannot speak to him in person, I am looking forward to seeing him again when we can laugh and run and drink a cold beer together.

God Bless and RIP my brother.

“ At 56...same as myself, I also remember what an awesome athlete you were. You were the fastest in every race. Clifton days always make me smile..It was timeless. No worries..just friend's and good times. God has plans for us all...I pray for your family as I know their hearts are breaking and they will miss you so. Keep your eyes looking down from heaven and maybe give them a sign now and again so they know you are waiting on them when you reunite in the Lord's house. " Pennies from Heaven" is a great poem that has brought my wife and I comfort after losing our daughter. Your family will always miss you..but they will remember all the great things about you and that will help the sadness become more tolerable. Love and prayers my friend..Rest well... Marty Cotter
