“ Shawn and I met playing Call of Duty and instantly clicked. We were both ok at best, but our personalities were always in sync and we had a way of making each other laugh at nothing. Although we never met (I'm in IL), we talked about making it happen and he truly became one of my greatest friends. He loved his parents, his job and most of all his children. Shawn impacted my life like no one had before and he'll be terribly missed by so many. I picked a Perrywinkle candle because I think if he were here today, that's her one he'd pick simply because of the name.

Rest easy, Rubber Ducky. I miss you and will still make it out to meet you sometime. Ms. Kitty, over and out.

“ Shawn was such a unique individual. I could relate to him in so many ways. He had his own personality and was not afraid to share it. Whenever I was around Shawn at the shop, he always had me laughing. Shawn brought brightness to the world. He will forever be missed. Until we meet again bud! Peace!

“ Shawn brought his own light into a room at an early age and has continued to shine bright. He was one of the most gifted people I've ever known and used that wit and charm in every situation he could.

I put 'Shawnee Indian' on my shoulders and flip him over into the pool! He was 15 months old but he loved it and wanted more. This was one of my fondest memories of him. He is gone way too soon.
